

CONSIDER APPOINTMENTS

Senate Confirms Royal C. Cabell as Internal Revenue Commissioner. Washington, Feb. 3.—Two general appropriation bills, one providing for the army and the other for urgent deficiencies, were passed by the senate. At a brief executive session, the nominations of Royal C. Cabell of Virginia to be commissioner of internal revenue and James F. Curtis of Boston to be assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of customs, were favorably reported from the committee on finance. The nomination of Mr. Cabell was confirmed, but in the absence of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who was authorized to espouse the Curtis nomination, no action was taken by the senate in Curtis's case.

In considering the urgent deficiency bill, the senate, on motion of Senator Bulkley of Minnesota, knocked out the item carrying appropriations to pay the salaries of judges of the customs court.

The closing hours of the session were devoted to the consideration of the postal savings bank bill. There was a general informal debate, in which Senator Heyburn attacked the measure vigorously.

DISCLOSE SECRETS OF PACKING HOUSES

Former Employees Starile Probers By Their Revelations.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Former employees of the packing houses, who are disgruntled and willing to tell all they know, have revealed inside secrets of the beef trust of the most surprising nature. As a result the secret service guard of the grand jury was doubled. "Squealers," as they are called, are responsible for the revelations.

Judge Landis issued an order putting the "lid" on the investigation even more tightly, and forbidding the giving out of the names of any of the witnesses. As a result, the number of special agents of the department of justice and secret service men in the federal building was doubled and taken extraordinary precautions were taken, the reason for the order being, it developed, that the court wished to keep secret the names of the new witnesses.

Ends Life in Hell Gate. New York, Feb. 3.—Henry Pennington Toler, once a leader in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, jumped into the East river from Ward's Island and was drowned in Hell Gate.

SHERIFF

Returned From Kentucky Without His Prisoner

Was Prevented By Writ Of Habeas Corpus

Lamarre Now In Jail In Frankfort, Ky.

Sheriff P. J. Parker returned Thursday afternoon at 1:20 from Frankfort, Ky., but without the man he went after, E. L. Lamarre, who is wanted here for stealing a horse and buggy at Fredericktown.

Sheriff Parker started to the station at Frankfort with the man Wednesday, but the attorney for Lamarre got out a writ of habeas corpus and took the prisoner away from the officer. The case was taken before the judge of the circuit court Wednesday afternoon. Sheriff Parker was represented by the county district attorney of Frankfort. After hearing the facts in the case the judge dismissed the application and gave the sheriff authority to take the prisoner with him, but the attorney for Lamarre immediately appealed the case to the supreme court and it will not be heard until some time in April.

In the meantime the judge of the circuit court fixed Lamarre's bond at $1,000 and default of the same he was locked up in the county jail at Frankfort and will be compelled to remain there until the case is heard in April.

The district prosecutor, who represented Sheriff Parker in the case stated that the "whole proceedings were simply a matter of form and that the sheriff would secure the prisoner without a question."

Tommy's New Year's Resolution. Just before the school closed for the holidays the teacher urged her pupils to make at least one good resolution for the year 1910. As she finished her remarks a boy in the front seat raised his hand.

"Well, Tommy," said the teacher, "I'm glad you are going to make a good resolution. What is it, my boy?" "Please, teacher," he replied, "I ain't going to hit no boy in 1910 that's bigger 'n me."

Brereton-Mitchell Nuptials

Impressive and beautiful was the wedding ceremony that united Mr. James Philip Brereton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brereton, of Salem, O., to Miss Lucy Marie Mitchell, Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Mitchell, E. Lamertine Place. Promptly at 6:45 the bridal party descended the stairway and entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Miss Margaret Eggleston. Master Myron Eggleston, nephew of the bride, preceded the party, acting as ring bearer, dressed in white serge. Following from the right of the stairway came the bride on the arm of her father, Mr. R. C. Mitchell, who gave her in marriage, the two bride's maids, Miss Lena Mitchell, sister of the bride, and Miss Florence Brereton, sister of the groom. From the left came the groom and Mr. Fred Stiffer, who acted as groom's man. They were met in the east corner of the spacious parlor by Rev. Wm. E. Hull, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, who, beneath the mammoth bell, backed by evergreens and potted plants, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of Dutchess lace over satin in draped princess style, with full court train. Her tulle veil was caught with lilies of the valley, and her bouquet was a shower of roses, the stems entwined with lilies of the valley. Miss Lena Mitchell was dressed in white net and carried pink roses. Miss Florence Brereton wore maise silk, carrying lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony the bride's father and mother, with the groom's assisted in receiving congratulations.

A supper was served the guests in the adjoining rooms. The decorations were potted plants and shaded candles on each of the tables. The bride's table was laid in the dining room, which was decorated with ferns, candelabums and vases of carnations, the table holding a sunburst centerpiece of pink roses.

Seated with the bridal party were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brereton, Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Hull, Miss Margaret Stauffer, Mr. Harold C. G. Martin, Miss Margaret Eggleston, Miss Anita Jones, Miss Vivian Hutton, Miss Winnifred Jones, Miss Helen Wright, Miss Olive Carlisle, Mr. Raymond Lyle, Mr. Clifford Brentlinger, Miss Rachael Thompson, Miss Adella Hosack, Mr. Robert Stauffer, Miss Welker, Miss Mary Stauffer, Mr. Vincent Myron, Miss Lena Mitchell, Master Myron Eggleston, Mr. Fred Stiffer, Miss Florence Brereton and the bride and groom.

Miss Margaret Eggleston secured the ring in the bride's cake and the button fell to the lot of Miss Helen Wright and Mr. Fred Stiffer. The groom's cake which was served the unmarried men only, when cut by the groom and passed was found to contain a bottle, penny and button. Found in the pieces claimed by Messrs. Stiffer, Stevens and Stauffer. The bride blindfolded in the center of the circle composed of the unmarried ladies, handed her roses to her aunt, Miss Luella Mitchell.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Roll Johnson of Butler, Mrs. Loney, of North Liberty, Mr. and Mrs. William Adams of Bangs, Mrs. Bender of Cleveland, Miss Adella Hosack of Fredericktown, Misses Olive Carlisle, Rachael Thompson, Helen Wright, Lizzie Welker, and Messrs. Vincent Welker, H. C. G. Martin of Gambler, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brereton, Miss Florence Brereton and Mr. Fred Stiffer of Salem, O.

Those who assisted during the supper hour were the sisters of the bride, Mrs. John Whitford, Mrs. Hal Eggleston, Mrs. Harry Mitchell and Miss Edith McCalla, Helen Louise Gordon and Mrs. Wm. Adams.

The happy couple were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents.

The young people of the gathering accompanied the bride and groom to their new home, 608 N. Gay street, where they were treated royally with cigars, candy, etc.
